HOW TO REACH THE AVOIDANTLY
ATTACHED WITH EFT COUPLE, FAMILY &
INDIVIDUAL THERAPY:
WITHDRAWER REENGAGEMENT

DRS. PAUL AND NANCY AIKIN,
EFT CERTIFIED TRAINERS
SUPERVISORS AND THERAPISTS

COST: $175 ($155 IF RECEIVED BY 11-8-2015)

This workshop will focus on reaching the shut down, emotionally unavailable client. There are many clients with a cluster of symptoms and psychodynamics that are referred to as "withdrawers" in the Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT) model, as "anxious avoidant" in attachment theory and as "narcissists/schizoids" in the psychodynamic model. We will make connections between these models and will unfold for you how the EFT approach, a humanistic-experiential model, understands and works with these difficult to reach individuals in couple, family and individual psychotherapy. This workshop builds on "The Introduction to Emotionally Focused Therapy and Emotionally Focused Family Therapy" that we offered last spring but does not require having attended that workshop.

We will show live demonstration of this work as well as video demonstration examples of it and encourage role plays as a means of helping you understand the process of reaching these clients. We will help you understand the process using both didactic and experiential methods.
